

INFORMATION ADDRESSED TO THE PERSON, WHO UNDERTAKE INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL FROM AREAS AFFECTED BY 2019-nCoV

In the last few weeks in numerous Asia Pacific Countries (China, Thailand, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan) there have been confirmed cases of respiratory tract illness with symptoms including: body temperature above 38°C, coughing, shortness of breath and problems with breathing in general.

If you notice by yourself and suffer from any of these symptoms, please contact the medical doctor or the nearest hospital emergency department as soon as possible, in order to determine potential further steps in terms of laboratory tests and medical treatment.
